Ask the Teacher

A student wrote to the school advice corner: 'I am always tired. I can't finish my homework, and I am worried about my exams.' The teacher replied: 'Thank you for your letter. If I were you, I would make a plan. Do the most important homework first. I would also sleep eight hours — a tired brain can't learn. Maybe you should rest between lessons instead of looking at your phone. If you try this for two weeks, you will see a difference. Good luck!'
